Dear Ms. Newman:

Since 19---, the Federal Executive Council of Oklahoma City (FEC) and the Tulsa Federal Executive Association (FEA) have served as the singular organizations in the Oklahoma City and Tulsa communities dedicated to the recognition and support of Federal employees and to sharing of resources. The Constitution and By-laws through which the FEC and FEA are governed are attached at Tab A. Through the years, the activities of the FEC/FEA have expanded to the point where it is now most appropriate to petition for the establishment of Federal Executive Board (FEB) status.

Following a meeting with Mr. Edward Vela, Jr., in ----1990, the FEC and FEA examined in detail the criteria for becoming a FEB. A decision was then reached that a proposal for FEB establishment would be presented to the general membership on ----- (Tab B). At the meetings, the benefits that would accrue through the formation of an FEB were thoroughly discussed, as were the increased responsibilities and the obligation to respond to guidance to be received from the Office of Personnel Management (OPM). Members who had been associated in the past with FEB's throughout the United States recounted their professional experiences. Following a question-and-answer period, the general membership voted unanimously to petition for the establishment of the Oklahoma Federal Executive Board.

Currently, the FEC and FEA have eight main programs which serve as the core of the FEC/FEA's activities.

Federal Personnel Council:

This is an Oklahoma Statewide committee serving the Federal families in Oklahoma City and Tulsa as well as all other Federal organizations throughout the State; i.e., Lawton, Muskogee, etc. The Federal Personnel Council (FPC) serves as a central point to clarify, standardize, and implement personnel policy issues across Federal agency organizational lines. The FPC also provides a resource body for the smaller Federal agencies in the State to obtain needed personnel services. The FPC is responsible for developing and implementing an Employee Wellness Program for the Federal family in the State of Oklahoma. The FPC also sponsors training seminars for Federal members that better prepare supervisors and managers to meet the ever changing day-to-day problems. Seminars in total quality management (TQM), management/executive practices and procedures, etc., are identified, publicized, sponsored, and conducted under the auspices of the FPC.

Federal Image Committee:

The Federal Image Committee (FIC) provides oversight to several subcommittees that specialize in providing activities to enhance the Federal image in the State of Oklahoma. The activities of the FIC incorporate the following:

- (1) Develop and coordinate a survey of all Federal sector agency/employees identifying the resources provided to the community; i.e., budget and economic impact, volunteer hours, and "sponsorship" activities.
- (2) Develop a professional brochure that highlights the Oklahoma Federal service family, the "products" provided, and the community activity represented.
- (3) Establish and promote a speakers' bureau reflecting all Federal agencies and the expertise available in them.
- (4) Focus on and enhance the relationship with media (newspaper, radio, television) to expand coverage provided the Federal sector.
- (5) Coordinate various volunteer "campaigns" (i.e., Cancer Telethon, walk-a-thon, Oklahoma Educational Television Authority (OETA) telephone answering, blood drives, Adopt-a-Highway, etc.) as a part of the "Federal Family" sponsorship.
- (6) Publish a periodic newsletter of Federal employee activities, accomplishments, awards, recognitions, and special programs from the agencies.
- (7) Develop employment/career counseling programs or booths for presentation at high schools.

Federal Women's Committee:

The Federal Women's Committee (FWC) identifies and coordinates women's issues and projects for the FEA/FEC. Operating under the FEA/FEC, the FWC initiates and implements projects that promote the employment and advancement of women in the Federal Government. FWC members from a variety of Federal agencies and organizations work together on task forces to identify and eliminate barriers to women, plan programs in career development and training, networking, community outreach activities, and other special issues as needed. See Tab C for the FWC charter.

Combined Federal Campaign Committee:

The Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) Committee conducts the annual CFC for all employees of Federal facilities within the Oklahoma City and Tulsa metropolitan areas. The FEB members of the other cities in the State run their own campaigns. The CFC is a once-a-year drive whereby employees can designate the nonprofit and not-for-profit organizations to whom they wish to contribute.

Distinguished Government Service Awards Program Committee:

The objectives of this program are to support Public Service Recognition Week, coordinate the annual presentation of awards to Federal employees for outstanding service or meritorious contributions as well as community volunteers, and interface with other Federal employee organizations. Each year, the annual awards program is conducted in a forum that promotes public awareness of the contributions made by Federal employees. In all previous ceremonies, the FEA\FEC has been fortunate in having a member of the Oklahoma congressional delegation speak at the awards banquet. In 1990, Congressman Glenn English was our guest speaker.

Distinguished Government Service Awards are presented for the following six categories:

SUPERVISORY/MANAGERIAL - Federal employee or uniformed military whose principal duties are to supervise the work of others and/or manage an organizational segment. All wage system supervisors and foremen fall into this category.

TECHNICAL, PROFESSIONAL, and ADMINISTRATIVE, GS-9 and ABOVE - Federal employee or uniformed military engaged in nonsupervisory professional, technical, program management or analysis, or administrative work.

TECHNICAL, PROFESSIONAL, and ADMINISTRATIVE, GS-8 and BELOW - Federal employee or uniformed military engaged in nonsupervisory professional, technical support program management or analysis, or administrative work.

TRADES AND CRAFTS - Federal employee or uniformed military performing nonsupervisory work in a recognized trade, craft, or manual labor occupation.

CLERICAL - Federal employee or uniformed military performing clerical or secretarial work.

HANDICAPPED - Federal employee with severe employment handicap performing work in any occupation or at any level.

Civil Rights Committee:

The Civil Rights Committee (CRC) membership is represented by all of the Federal agencies that make up the FEA/FEC. The committee has the responsibilities of (1) dissemination of information from the Federal sector to the community and from the community to the Federal sector (job fairs, local activities, etc.) and (2) consideration of activities to support the employment, promotion, etc., of the affected groups. The committee shows the collective representation of all the different minority groups and the impact of having a collective effort for Hispanic Week, Black History Week, etc., during the same time in all of the agencies would have a greater impact.

Education Committee:

The Education Committee (EC) works with the various Chambers of Commerce within the State of Oklahoma. The EC serves as a resource to the local superintendent of schools by providing briefings to inform school administrators of Federal activities that may have application to education within Oklahoma schools. The EC provides briefings and other reasonable administrative support to school administrators upon request. The EC is also a resource entity to the Oklahoma Colleges and Universities. The EC identifies highly qualified Federal employees that are qualified to teach in the field of public administration. These Federal workers augment the faculties of the Schools of Public Administration for Oklahoma Colleges and Universities.

Savings Bonds Committee

The objective of this committee is to support the efforts of the U.S. Savings Bonds Division of the U.S. Treasury in its annual savings bonds drive.

On the basis of Federal civilian employee population, the State of Oklahoma would rank -----, or in the top ---- percent of all existing FEB's. This comparison, however, does not take into consideration the Federal military presence. Of the top six FEB's, only the State of Oklahoma has an active duty population exceeding -----. When the ----- military servicemen are added to the 37,000 Federal civilian employees, the State of Oklahoma has a total Federal population of -----, Excluding the national capital area, this is the largest concentration of Federal employees in any metropolitan center of the United States. In addition, the list of Federal departments, agencies, and commissions at Tab D clearly illustrates the wide diversity of Federal representation in the State of Oklahoma.

Letters supporting this petition from the following community leaders are attached at the indicated tabs:

Tab E - Governor, State of Oklahoma

Tab F - Oklahoma Congressional Delegation

The establishment of the Oklahoma Federal Executive Board will bring extensive benefits to our local Federal operations and enhance the cooperation and effectiveness with our State and municipal counterparts. On behalf of all the members of the Federal Executive Association and Federal Executive Council, thank you for your kind consideration of this petition which, I trust, will be examined favorably.

H.C. McClure
Chairperson, FEC

The OK-FWC identifies and coordinates women's issues and projects for the Federal Executive Board. Operating under the Federal Executive Council, the OK-FWC initiates and implements projects that promote the employment and advancement of women in the federal government.

OK-FWC members from a variety of federal agencies and organizations work together on task forces to identify and eliminate barriers to women, plan programs in career development and training, networking, community outreach activities, and other special issues as needed.

The Women's Council is composed of federally employed representatives of each of the various agencies, organizations, and interest groups throughout Oklahoma.

B. Appointment of Chairperson and selection of members

The Chairperson of the Women's Council, appointed by the Chairperson of the Federal Executive Council, will assemble representatives each year so that the OK-FWC maintains the following composition:

- 4 representatives of agencies with 101 or more employees (suggest FWPM's)
- 2 representatives of agencies with 100 or fewer employees

The Chairperson of the OK-FWC may appoint additional members to serve for limited terms in an ad hoc capacity.

The selection of the eighteen representatives will be made by the Chairperson of the Women's Council. The Chairperson will cultivate both diversity and continuity in committee membership. Members may be identified through solicitation of nominations from agency directors, or through solicitation of volunteers from representative categories, or through direct appointment, or by any combination of these methods that are approved by the Chairperson.

All appointments to the council will be confirmed in writing.

B. Length and Conditions of Service

The Chairperson and members, once assembled, will serve until their replacements are appointed and have convened. Appointments extend throughout the tenure of the Chairperson by whom they were made.

—A member may succeed himself or herself to the council no more than four times in the same capacity (that is, representing the same constituency.) Representation may be rotated at the discretion of the Chairperson.

Membership constitutes a commitment to participate in committee work and activities. Members recognize this responsibility and fulfill it in part by serving on task forces, attending committee meetings and contributing to the discussion and decision-making on committee matters.

A member who is absent from two or more of the six annual committee meetings may be asked to relinquish his or her seat so that an active representative may be appointed.

Although a member may designate an individual to represent him or her at a meeting(s), this representation does not constitute the member's attendance for purposes of this policy.

C. Appointment of Officers

A Vice-chairperson, a Secretary, and a Treasurer of the council will be appointed by the Chairperson. The Vice-chairperson will preside as acting chairperson of the committee in the Chairperson's absence. The Secretary will provide notice and minutes of meetings. E. Representation at FEC

The Chairperson or designated agent represents the committee at all FEC meetings.

III COUNCIL FUNCTION

A. There are five standing Task Forces on the council:

1. Career Development and Training.

The OK-FWC Career Development and Training Task Force works with the Federal Executive Council to present seminars and workshops that meet the needs of women employed by the federal government. In order to encourage use and conservation of resources, this Task Force coordinates activities with the FEC and with special interest organizations inside and outside government service. Additional responsibilities include administration of the FEC's access to materials on self-development and employment opportunities, including a "Trainers Bureau," of programs, speakers and trainers.

2. Networking and Mentoring

This task force binds the federal family together by maintaining a job bank with listings of job vacancies in each agency which will permit women to be upwardly-mobil and move by interagency networking to reach full potential. It also directs a mentoring program which enables interested upwardly-mobil women to identify, meet, and work with appropriate role models and career counselors.

3. Identifying and eliminating barriers

This task force is necessary to identify and eliminate barriers to women in government service as a method to resolve the disproportionate number of females in lower grades and help women move into upper employment levels.

4. Community Outreach

The Community Outreach Task Force works with federal and private sector resources to research issues affecting our community and to provide training, education, and publicity on chosen topics. The task force supports development of adequate child care services for federal employees, provides information and programs on health concerns, fosters education on the care of the elderly, and seeks to provide information and resources for those community needs identified by the OK-FWC.

5. Special Projects

The Special Projects Task Force serves entirely at the discretion of the OK-FWC Chairperson. It coordinates or directs special initiatives as requested.

IV. AMENDMENT OF CHARTER

This Charter may be amended at any time by a majority vote of the Oklahoma Federal Women's Council membership in consultation with the Chairperson of the Federal Executive Council.
